

ART NEW YORK™

Art Love New York – Press release. March 4-8th 2015
At S Art Space – 345, Broome Street, New York, NY.

Art Love New York is pleased to announce a preview show to introduce you to our biannual art fair, taking place on March 4th, 2015, in Downtown Manhattan!

We are a contemporary arts platform catering for emerging & established artists from around the globe. Our main focus is promoting up-and-coming talents seeking a wider audience in the international art circuit. We plan to make New York's vibrant art scene more accessible to our participants, while encouraging fairgoers to mingle with the crowds as they stroll from exhibit to exhibit, in an innovative, art fair format. We are interested in all forms of media: photography, sculpture, installation, mixed media, video, etc. – anything we fall in love with!

This March, ALNY will be showcasing 16 artists from France, Belgium, Serbia, Lebanon, Japan, US, Australia and Senegal, to name a few, with works ranging from painting, sculpture and mixed media. This soft launching of what is sure to become a regular feature of New York's art scene will take place on March 4th, 2015, at S Art Space on 345 Broome Street, Manhattan, from 6:00pm until 9:00pm!

The exhibit will remain until March 8th, open to the public from 11:00am until 10:00pm daily.
